'The original MOOCs were “open” in two respects:

Open as in “open registration”

Open as in “open license”
George Siemens
Athabasca University

‘The new cohort of MOOCs are distinct from the original MOOCs in that they are “open,” thus far, in only one respect: they are open enrollment. The new MOOCs have not yet openly licensed their courses.’

Outlook for online learning in 2013: online learning comes of age
Nearly all institutions will move much of their regular teaching online, either as purely online courses or as hybrids of face-to-face and online

BECAUSE:

- Student body is changing
- Students are opting for online
- HEIs must get their costs down
- Online may prove to be better

- People
- Places
- Methods
- Ideas

EASY IN, DIFFICULT OUT
CONCLUSION

MOOCs are not the best route to developing an institutional capacity to offer regular degree programmes online.
THE AIM

“to lead students into online award-bearing programmes and have them graduate at rates at least as good as those of their fellow students on campus”.
Possible Services

• Course conversion
• Technology platform
• Student recruitment
• Organisation of student support
